STEMI Care for All in the Emirates (SCALE) SCALEHEART 2017

Heart attack carries a high risk of loss of life starting at the prime age of life. Acute heart attack, or STEMI, is a major threat to life among all adult age groups and in the United Arab Emirates, it's identified as one of the biggest killers. Fortunately, the STEMI challenge isn't insurmountable; awareness and appropriate action can save lives.

SCALE – 'STEMI Care for All in the Emirates' – was launched in 2015 as an attempt to educate all healthcare professionals on saving life and preserving quality of life in patients with heart attacks. True to its mission, SCALE brought together the medical community, healthcare administrators and the general public at the 'SCALEHEART' conference in 2015 and 2016, to share knowledge and best practices for a healthy heart and healthy living.

With such a firm background of two successful annual conferences, I am pleased to present to you the third 'SCALEHEART' conference on this day, the 17 th November 2017.

It's my firm belief that exchange of knowledge would continue to enlighten and enhance efforts in this direction.

Welcome you all for a meaningful daylong interaction – small steps lead to great destinations!

Dr. Brajesh Mittal

CHAIRMAN

STEMI Care for All in the Emirates (SCALE) SCALEHEART 2017

'SCALE' was launched 2 years back; with the sole mission to educate health care professionals and the society at large to prevent deaths and damages from heart attacks.

Acute heart attack- known in medical terminology as Acute ST Elevation Myocardial Infarction (STEMI) occurs in all adult age groups and it is a major killer. However, majority of the lives can be saved by timely and appropriate actions. Currently there is a big gap in 'what can be done' and 'what is actually done'. This gap has to be narrowed down. Education has power. Educating for early recognition and early treatment of this major killer can make a major difference.

As a part of this constant endeavor, I welcome you all to the III annual meeting- the SCALEHEART 2017 where experts in the field will share the information and knowledge.

Dr. Abdullah Shehab

PRESIDENT

President of Emirates Cardiology Society

Coronary artery disease is the number one killer. Acute myocardial infarctions result in major mortality and morbidity to an individual. In addition, it is a menace to the families, societies and the communities. Due to high prevalence of diabetes mellitus, obesity and smoking in this region- UAE is severely burdened with this problem.

Emirates Cardiac Society is keenly concerned to contain and bring down the incidence of Ac MI and related impact. On behalf of ECS, I welcome you all in this scientific; conference dedicated to exchange of knowledge and education in this direction.
